RECOMMENDATION- RANDY & DONNA CARTER

Randy and Donna Carter were such wonderful and engaging speakers for our marriage conference where over 40 couples attended. The Carters are clearly both seasoned speakers who know how to strike the balance of disseminating solid content, sharing personal stories, and facilitating moments where couples can engage in meaningful conversations. Their combination of lived wisdom and humour made it easy for everyone to participate, and they shaped an atmosphere that was conducive for open and honest sharing.

It was also very easy working with the Carters to plan our event as they communicated expectations clearly, and they provided the resources we required in order to partner with them in preparing for a valuable conference.

Our marriage weekend with the Carters was a great encouragement and reminder for all our attendees that marriage is both a wonderful gift to enjoy, but also a battlefield that calls couples to take practical steps to improve. I highly recommend the Carters to anyone seeking to facilitate healthier conversations around marriage in their community.
